One cutlery collection, many different occasions: Hepp presents "Partum"

Collection with svelte lines and the finest facets

Partum from Hepp is a cutlery model developed to meet the widest of requirements in the hotel and catering industry: it has the elegance of design to shine in table settings for a classic three-course meal or any extended brunch.

Characteristic of the new cutlery line are the long, slim stems, which add tone to the good looks and show to best advantage when this cutlery is set out to accompany large porcelain tableware. And the unobtrusive faceting along the centreline combined with the polished finish cast glitters of reflected light from every cover on the set table. Last but not least, the gently curving handles and balanced proportions afford every item of Partum cutlery a hand-charming quality that never fails to delight.

With lengths of up to 23.7 cm (table knife), Partum outsizes many a classic cutlery line, setting exactly the right highlights for a modern ambience. The 17-item range covers all the many and varied needs of the hotel and catering industry – breakfast, midday meal and evening table. The collection is available in easy-care 18/10 stainless steel or with a silver-plated finish. Added to all this versatility, Partum – manufactured in proven Hepp quality – is of course totally robust and durable.

About Hepp

HEPP – Professional Hotel Equipment, proHeq GmbH – is based in Birkenfeld, near Pforzheim, Germany, and internationally it ranks among the leading suppliers of tableware. The company uses highly specialised production techniques to manufacture the world's most diversified range of tableware and serving ware – from cutlery through coffee pots and accompaniments to chafing dishes and food distribution systems. Materials and workmanship are among the highlights, but Hepp products also meet ultra-high requirements in terms of design, quality and practicality. Those were the principles on which brothers Carl and Otto Hepp originally founded their company back in 1863, so they are justly acclaimed as the inventors of hotel silverware. Traditional values such as reliability and quality still apply and together with innovative drive, the development of new techniques and products and flexible manufacturing, they remain the foundation for the company's success today. Worldwide, Hepp is a supplier of choice to premium hotels, hotel chains and restaurants, and also to quality-conscious catering firms, international cruise lines, airlines and rail companies.
